We have been working with Ray Allen and his team from Alltrack Promotions for a number of years, he started supplying the Spread Eagle with DJs back in 2004 and after years of great service we decided to make them our 'Go To' company for all of our musical requirements.

They have been our resident DJs for about six years now, the company we choose to recommend to all our brides and grooms when planning their weddings as well as for many other events such as birthday parties and company celebrations.

We have always received very positive feedback from our customers with regards to Ray and his company, from his very competitive pricing to the customer service he provides in the run up to any event as well as on the day. I never have to worry about anything when we know people are using ALLTRACK PROMOTION's services, they are very reliable and always do a great job!

We will continue to use this company in the future, and now also choose them for all of our special event nights during the festive period such as Christmas parties and even for New Years Eve because we know they will be the perfect choice to make it a great night!

Ray has always been very happy to work along side the team here at The Spread Eagle, as well as taking care of all sorts of special requests we have had with regards to things like unusual play lists over the years.

We have always been very happy with the service Ray and the Team from Alltrack Promotions have provided and look forward to many more successful events working together.
